Rebranding of Squires Gilbride to Vistra Now Complete

Vistra further solidifies presence in Ireland

Dublin, Ireland, 18 October 2018 – Vistra, a leading global trust, corporate service and fund administration provider, announced today that Squires Gilbride Chartered Accountants & Advisors (Squires Gilbride) has now been officially rebranded as Vistra following the acquisition announcement in February this year.

Vincent Bremmer, Vistra's Regional Director Europe commented, "We are glad to witness the completion of the rebranding of Squires Gilbride as Vistra. As we see continual growing importance of Ireland in attracting businesses and high-value foreign direct investments, the addition of Squires Gilbride as well as Canyon CTS and Deutsche Bank's corporate services business earlier this year would further solidify our presence in Ireland, enabling us to extend our client offerings."

With offices in Dublin and Shannon, Vistra Ireland helps clients forge their future success in Ireland with a comprehensive range of service offerings:

- Corporate and trust services for structured finance deals, corporate restructuring support and services in relation to the aircraft leasing industry including Asset-Backed Securitisation (ABS) transactions;
- Management and administration of Special Purpose Vehicles (SPV) and asset holding companies to banks, non-bank financial institutions and corporates;
- Accounting, tax, company secretarial, payroll, auditing and advisory services for clients establishing their presence in the Irish market or setting up regional hub for the European Union in Ireland

Ireland is named one of the best countries for business and the best country in the world for attracting high-value foreign direct investments for six years in a row in IBM's Global Locations Trends report. The country's talent pool, track record in doing business, technology infrastructure and the 12.5% corporate tax rate continues to resonate strongly with investors, attracting global operations of multinationals in technology, pharmaceutical, biosciences, manufacturing and financial services industries.

Driving foreign direct investment in Ireland, Vistra is proud to be sponsoring the inaugural Invest in Ireland Awards and joining the judging panel. Organised by local newspaper Irish Independent and supported by IDA Ireland, a non-commercial semi-state inward investment promotion agency, the awards honour excellence in the inward foreign direct investment sector in the Republic of Ireland. The awards ceremony will be held in Dublin today.
