

GDPR Compliance One Year On

GDPR Health Check and Staff Training

Ensure your internal policies are compliant and your staff understand their responsibilities with help from Vistra Corporate Law.

“People’s personal data is just that – personal. That’s why the law is clear – when you are entrusted with personal data you must look after it. Those that don’t will face scrutiny from my office to check they have taken appropriate steps to protect fundamental privacy rights.”

Elizabeth Denham – Information Commissioner
(July 2019)

One year on from the introduction of the GDPR, the UK regulator for data protection, the ICO, has begun taking significant action under the legislation.

With increased scrutiny from the ICO, it is more important than ever for your organisation to have robust policies and well-trained employees to protect against unauthorised data breaches and potential sanctions.

Whether you have a particular query in mind, require assistance in drafting or amending policies or are looking to organise training for your workforce, Vistra’s Employment and Commercial legal teams are on hand to support you with a level of involvement tailored to your requirements.

GDPR compliance solutions

Staff Awareness Training

The ICO has suggested evidence of staff training can be key to demonstrating your organisation is GDPR compliant. Our training packages can be tailored to suit your business:

E-Learning

- Prepared by lawyers who are practice-area specialists
- Interactive, user-friendly software complete with case studies and questions
- 'How to use' guidance provided by Vistra's Business Information Team
- Analytics capability: track employee progress, pass-rates and areas of improvement

In-Person Training

- Delivered by experienced employment and commercial solicitors
- Sessions divided into 'HR' and 'Commercial' to cover your workforce
- Direct focus on your organisation's policies and procedures
- Supported by case studies, interactive learning and Q&A

GDPR Health check

The ways in which your organisation uses personal data will evolve over time. Our GDPR Healthchecks include:

- Reviewing Privacy Notices, Data Protection Policies and procedures
- Preparing and amending documents, agreements and contracts

We can also provide specific advice on:

- Dealing with Subject Access Requests
- Undertaking Data Protection Impact Assessments
