This includes, but not limited to, escrow structures for mergers and acquisitions, regulatory/litigation settlements, payments, and raising capital. When risk management is critical, you can rely on Vistra Hong Kong to be your trusted Escrow Agent.

How Does Escrow Work

An Escrow Account is a dedicated and blocked account held with a neutral, independent, and trusted third party, called the Escrow Agent. Escrow assets that are held in the Escrow Account can range from cash, securities, property (legal documents), contracts, and collateral.

As an Escrow Agent, Vistra will receive, safe-keep, and release the money or property from the Escrow Account when the terms and conditions of the transaction have been met.

Advantages

- Interests of transaction parties are protected as money and/or property are held with a trusted third party Escrow Agent.
- Counterparty or market risks are minimised.
- Escrow Agent provides independent assurance of escrow objectives.
- Ease in setting up an Escrow Account
- An Escrow Account helps facilitate efficient transactions for parties involved.

Type of Transactions

- Joint ventures
- Mergers and acquisitions
- Corporate finance/capital raising
- Assets sales
- Real estate sales and leaseback
- Securitisation of assets
